PT500: Spiritual and Theological Foundations for Pastoral and Public Leadership (3.0 credits)
Fall 2016

PURPOSE

The time is one of “great turning,” “emergence,” a “threshold time” characterized by a recognized shift in inherited patterns of thinking and acting. The place is right here where your feet are planted and your relationship to those around you matters deeply. The task is preparation for contributing to the collective spiritual work of embracing the intersection of suffering and wonder where questions of meaning and purpose arise. The goal of this course is to deepen our understanding of the teaching and practices of contemplation and action integral to the Christian life as a foundation for public and pastoral leadership.

In this class we will honour the exploration of a call to ministry not first as an individual career path but as a beckoning into a “great work” of love - a mandate wider and longer than any one person’s lifetime. How do we articulate that mandate? How does our faith guide and inform our understanding of the call to love? Who are our mentors in this time and place? What do we need to learn, individually and collectively, in order to lend our lives and leadership to the promise of abundant life? These are some of the questions we will explore together as we formulate a foundation in prayer and action for the collective work of public and pastoral leadership for our time.

PRE-REQUISITE: This is a foundational course with no pre-requisites.

COMPETENCE OBJECTIVES

The course is designed to build competency toward the following outcomes:

- developing spiritual life based in disciplined practice
- ability to do contextual and critical analysis
- building capacity for leadership in intercultural and interfaith communities
- theological understanding of public and pastoral ministry

FORMAT AND CONTENT

This 3.0 credit course is designed to incorporate discussion of assigned readings and lectures, in-class practice, conversations with practitioners, and student presentations. A variety of assignments are due throughout the semester (see syllabus distributed on first day of class for details).

Unless there is sufficient enrolment for an on-line discussion group to be formed (at least 3 students), distance students must connect simultaneously with class meeting times via Adobe Connect. Contact Registrar in September for enrolment information.

TEXTS AND RESERVES

The following four texts are on reserve in the library and have been ordered by the UBC bookstore. Please ensure that you have purchased copies before the first class:

- 1) Driskill, Joseph D., Protestant Spiritual Exercises: Theology, History and Practice, Morehouse 1999
- 2) McFague, Sallie, Blessed Are the Consumers: Climate Change and the Practice of Restraint, Fortress, 2013 (also available on Kindle). Note that pagination for this text does not translate to Kindle edition.
- 3) Thornton, Sharon G., Broken Yet Beloved: A Pastoral Theology of the Cross, Chalice 2002

Recommended for Purchase: (While the whole text is not assigned, there are a number of readings assignments from this text)

4) Soelle, Dorothee, The Silent Cry: Mysticism and Resistance, Fortress 2001

If you are relatively new to Christianity, please also read:

Clark-King, Ellen, A Path to Your Door: Approaches to Christian Spiritual, Continuum 2011

COURSE POLICIES

1. Attendance: VST policy requires that students attend 80% of classes in any given course. This means on-campus students in a 3.0 credit course must attend class on time with no more than 2 allowable absences for any reason. For distance students, this means attending class through Adobe Connect synchronously with class with no more than 2 allowable absences for any reason. If you need to be absent, please inform the instructor in advance. Arriving (or logging in) on time for class is expected as a demonstration of leadership and respect for others. . If you are unexpectedly delayed or detained from arriving to class on time, please email the instructor at the earliest opportunity.
2. Reading and assignments Students are expected to read all required assignments before class and to complete all assignments as outlined in the syllabus within the specified dates of the course and term. Students not having completed assignments should excuse themselves from class discussions.
3. Academic honesty Students are expected to adhere to VST's requirements for academic honesty as published in the Student Handbook.
4. Inclusive language In speaking and writing, inclusive language is expected when making reference to humans and a variety of metaphors are anticipated when making reference to God.
5. Assignment and Course Evaluation
  - Course evaluations at VST combine a letter grade system (A+ to B-; course failure is "Not Approved") including narrative comments based on the competencies of the course. No number grades or weights of assignments are calculated, nor are final grades given numerical equivalents.
  - Individual assignments within a course are given narrative evaluations, that is, APP (Approved) or INC (Incomplete) with narrative comments, based on the competencies and expectations set for that assignment. One re-write is allowed on any assignment that is INC. The re-written assignment is due two weeks after the work is returned. The final evaluation for an assignment can be APP or NAPP after a re-write. For a passing grade in the course, all assignments must be Approved
6. Late assignments

Submission of assignments on time is a part of academic, professional and pastoral competence and a part of every course at VST. All assignments in courses are due on the dates specified in the syllabus. Assignments submitted after the deadline are required for completion of the course but will not contribute to the overall grade. There is NO EXTENSION granted for the final assignment.
7. Limitation on use of social media

Ordinarily, the use of electronic devices in the contexts of classrooms or meetings will be to support the learning, formation, or agenda at hand. It is expected that laptops are used in PT500 exclusively for taking notes.
8. Learning environment

VST is committed to creating safe space and an inclusive learning environment. If you have a diagnosed or suspected learning disability, chronic condition, mental health concern, or physical requirement which you anticipate may impact your participation in this class, you are encouraged to discuss your needs with the instructor and the Dean within the first week of classes.

EXPECTATIONS, EVALUATIVE CRITERIA AND COMPETENCIES

The required reading in 500 level courses is 50-75 pages per week. Adjustments are made for those for whom English is not a first language. Writing a précis of assigned reading for reference in class discussion is strongly encouraged.

Assignments are listed on the syllabus which will be distributed on the first day of class. These include, but are not limited to:

- 1) Weekly reading and participation in spiritual practice
- 2) Weekly written assignments
- 3) Weekly reading and preparation for class discussion (précis recommended)
- 4) Two reading reaction reports
- 5) Final paper
- 6) Final exam

All assignments will be evaluated based criteria of a) depth of knowledge and integration, and b) clarity of writing. Do not e-mail assignments without permission unless you are a distance education student. Thank you.

Assignments have been designed for you to demonstrate

- ability to work collaboratively
- ability to articulate insight and self-knowledge through journal entries and small group discussion on spiritual practice
- ability to offer orally and in writing analysis of current context, to relate texts to specific problems/ instances, and to apply learning to relevant ecclesial and social situations
- ability to locate and review samples of diverse religious and cultural resources informing approaches to public and pastoral leadership
- a discerning appreciation of and capacity to integrate a diversity of religious and cultural sources informing public and pastoral theology and practice
- ability to formulate questions of texts and practitioners which lead to deeper learning (hermeneutic circle) and widen the parameters of collective inquiry
- ability to articulate an understanding of the theological concept of attention and its relevance to public and pastoral leadership
- ability to articulate “the mandate,” purpose, call, or mission of communities of faith (within and beyond current congregational models) in this time and place
- ability to discern and outline specific goals for further learning in field-based and classroom environments
