Email           melissamskelton@gmail.com

Spring Term    Friday, March 17 (6:00 to 9:00 PM) and Saturday, March 18 (9:00 to 5:00 PM) 2023
All sessions of the class are in-person.

PURPOSE OF THE COURSE

Participants will examine their experience and beliefs regarding death, since, as clergy, or chaplains, they will often be dealing with people whose understanding and experience of death may be very different from their own. They will be challenged to reflect on and express what they believe about the dying process, about death, about understandings of life after death, and about human being's relationship with God and others within the experience of death. They will explore ways of understanding, caring for, and supporting people in the face of loss to give meaningful expression to that loss in the form of the funeral liturgy.

COMPETENCE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, participants will be able

1. To articulate their own personal history and attitudes regarding death and express the impact that these experiences and attitudes have in their dealings with people suffering loss and grief.
2. To describe the issues that people face at time of death.
3. To identify the basic aspects of grief and offer helpful ways of being of service to the dying and to their families both during the dying process and after the death of family members.
4. To plan and conduct a funeral and any other supportive liturgical rites either in the church or in another setting that demonstrate a sensitivity to the insights of the Anglican tradition, to the needs of the family of the person who has died, and to the parish or other community affected by the death.

COURSE POLICIES

100% in-person attendance for all the sessions of the course and appropriate participation in class discussion. Personal interaction and a sense of how the material applies in real contexts is an important aspect of formation. ## ASSIGNMENTS

In preparation for the retreat, students are expected to read the assigned text and other relevant reading. They are to complete all assignments within the specified dates of the course and term.

Based on their participation in the retreat, and assigned reading, they will be required to submit

- A 1500-word paper (Word format, using The Chicago Manual of Style).

The paper should reflect what was learned in the course and significantly reference the required text(s). Subject of the paper will be given previous to or during the course. The paper is due via email to the Instructor by April 15, 2023. If the paper does not reflect substantial understanding and appreciation of the subject matter, a re-write will be required.

- A funeral order of service that the student would like to be used for themselves, including readings, music, prayers, participants, etc.

Submission of assignments on time is a part of academic, professional, and pastoral competence and a part of every course at VST.
